Our Projects

What is TOKEN

What Are Cryptocurrency Tokens?

- Definition: Cryptocurrency tokens are digital assets created on a blockchain. Unlike traditional cryptocurrencies (like Bitcoin), which operate on their own blockchain, tokens are built on existing blockchains, primarily using standards like Ethereum's ERC-20.
- Purpose: Tokens can represent various assets or utilities, such as ownership rights, access to specific services, or voting rights within a decentralized application (dApp).

Our TOKEN

The Token that Fuels the Freedom Ecosystem

The BVR, as our native token, unifies the Freedom ecosystem by incorporating a decentralized blockchain that enables individuals to have self-management of their digital assets. The design of BVR is intentional, aiming to grow in harmony with our platform focused on community engagement.

Our ecosystem enables individuals to own their data, finances, identity, and privileges through seamless integration of products and services with the latest blockchain technology, fostering inclusivity, transparency, and mutual benefits.

As a BVR holder, the larger your token holdings, the more influential your role becomes in shaping the ecosystem and securing exclusive rewards.
